CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO, SATURDAY, MAY 19, 1934

Did You Know

By Pat J. Kirwin

THAT six local citizens organized a corporation for the construction and equipment of railroads in October, 1893. Incorporated with a capital of $100,000, the organization was known as The Ohio Construction and Improvement Company of Circleville. Milton Morris, Wayne Caldwell, Thomas Blackstone, L. Weldon and George F. Grand-Girard subscribed to the capital and were the original incorporators.

That two of the city's best known professional men, Dr. D. V. Courtright and Attorney C. A. Weldon were just entering upon their careers 41 years ago this summer. Dr. Courtright, eldest son of Dr. A. P. Courtright, was preparing to enter Miami University, Oxford, O., while Mr. Weldon, who had studied law in the office of Charles Delaplaine was getting ready to enroll in the Cincinnati Law School. Both began their studies in the fall of 1893.

That Henry Howe, Ohio's venerable historian, who prepared the excellent work, "Howe's Historical Collections," visited Circleville 41 years ago this summer and spent several weeks gathering data for his valuable book.

That one of the finest cornet bands to appear on Circleville's streets was organized here in August, 1893, under the direction of Prof. Oscar Ameringer, who later went to Europe to study music. The personnel of the band included several Circleville citizens of today. In the band were the following: Ameringer, J. D. Kernan, Ed. Hirt and Clarence Pickel, clarinetists; Court Savage, Orville Trone and W. F. Heffner, cornetists; D. R. Hoffman, euphonium; Ed. Heibel and Ben Bolender, alto horns; Meeker Terwilliger and Jud Savage, tenor horns; A. T. Hammel, tuba; Ben Ludwig, snare drum, and S. H. Meyers, bass drum.

THAT Col. and Mrs. Charles E. Groce have lived in their S. Court-st residence nearly 41 years. They moved there in September, 1893, from a residence on E. Main-st. The spacious Court-st home was bequeathed to Mrs. Groce in the will of Mrs. Mary O. Renick, who died in 1893. Wooster College at Wooster, O., received a $25,000 bequest in the will of Mrs. Renick's husband, to establish the "George Renick Professorship" which is still maintained.

That Circleville's fire department assisted in fighting the flames which destroyed the Chittenden Hotel in Columbus in November, 1893. The Henrietta Theatre and Park hotel were also destroyed in the fire, one of the most destructive in the history of Columbus. Total losses were more than $800,000.

That the first modern convenience to improve the city's streets was a $3,600 steamroller purchased by the city council in September, 1893. The purchase was hailed by local newspapers as "the most extravagant spending in the town's history." A. R. Van Cleaf's Democrat and Watchman, refusing to go along with a Democratic council, sarcastically commented, "having invested in a steam roller, the city might as well buy a steam plow and steam incubator... let's have all the latest appliances."

That after fighting five years in court, the C. and M. V. railroad in October, 1893, was finally forced to pay a judgment of $5,000 for the death of James T. Boggs, Pickaway-twp., who was killed at the S. Court-st railway crossing. The judgment was granted in common pleas court here but the railroad exercised all steps of appeal and finally carried the case to the Ohio Supreme Court. The latter body ordered the judgment be paid.

U.S. FARM PLAN IS ALTERED TO AID SUFFERERS

May Plant Forage Crops on Land Out of Cultivation Under AAA

BUY CATTLE, TOO

Study Being Made for Permanent Help

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The first modification of the government's far-flung crop reduction program had been decided upon today by officials of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as a result of the drought in the west.

Under the program laid before the congressional drought relief committee, farmers would be permitted to plant forage crops on land which was withdrawn from production.

The order will affect a wide area in the west in addition to Minnesota, North and South Dakota, the states hardest hit by the prolonged dry spell.

SIGNED CONTRACTS

Farmers in many western states had signed contracts to reduce both wheat and corn acreage, and to allow the land to lie idle.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration rejected congressional proposals for a complete abandonment of the restrictions in the drought area.

Farmers, however, will be able to plant grass, fodder corn, sorghum and other livestock feeds in the drought area. Should the spell be broken, enough feed could be produced to carry livestock through the winter.

The drought relief plan also includes purchase of cattle which have become so thin as the result of lack of feed so as to be virtually valueless to farmers. With government funds, farmer in the drought area will be able to buy good livestock from other sections.

A bill which has already passed the house authorizes $100,000,000 to be used in the general cattle price-lifting program and $50,000,000 for the purchase of diseased and surplus cattle.

PERMANENT HELP

Meantime the congressional drought committee planned a study of means of permanently aiding the great plains sections of the west.

Construction of huge reservoirs, reforestation and other means of conserving water are being studied with a view to proposing legislation next year.

"The water line in the sub-soil has dropped in many sections of the west," said Rep. Sinclair (R) of North Dakota, chairman of the congressional committee.

"Permanent relief is needed. We cannot let this great area become a desert. Our purpose is to evolve a long-time program."

The Public Works administration is aiding in the program by the construction of dams in many sections, but members of the congressional committee hold that a gigantic plan is necessary to prevent future disaster.

MUSIC PROGRAM GAINS PLAUDITS

"The Old Barn" To Be Scene Next Friday; Morgan To Attend Rally

More than $30 was obtained in a collection Friday evening during the "music festival" presented by the high school's four leading musical organizations including glee clubs, and junior and senior instrumental groups, directed by Miss Tootle and John H. Gill.

The money will be used to help purchase a base viol.

The auditorium was crowded for the program, the first ever attempted here. All were highly pleased with the progress shown by the youthful musicians and were free in their applause and comment at the conclusion of the two and one-half hour entertainment.

It is hoped the "music festival," when accomplishments of the various organizations can be shown to the public, will become an annual affair.

Some of the others who will attend are Nelson Sparks, Clarence J. Brown, John Elden, and George Braden. A much larger list is expected before the meeting time is reached.

CARTER, 22, ON PAROLE AFTER ROBBERY, SHOT

Chillicothe Youth in Serious Condition; 152 Shots Enter Body

THREE AIDES HELD

Two of Youths Stole Puckett's Automobile

Lloyd Carter, 22, one of two Chillicothe youths on parole from Pickaway-co common pleas court after stealing the automobile of Vernon Puckett, is in Chillicothe hospital in a precarious condition after being shot while allegedly trying to break into Jeff's Chicken Inn, west of the Ross-co city, early Friday.

Carter is given a 50-50 chance to recover.

Samuel Kelly, paroled with Carter here, is also in custody charged with helping in the attempted robbery.

Carter was shot in the right hip and groin by Gibson Growder, colored night watchman at the Inn. According to Sheriff Joe Vincent, of Ross-co, Growder awoke on the east side of the inn was awakened by someone breaking in a door on the west side. Picking up a 20 gauge shotgun, he walked to the other side of the building and saw two men, one of them already in the place.

RETURNED FIRE

He pulled up the gun and shot. Carter, the injured man, then shot at Growder. It is charged, a .32 caliber cartridge being found on the floor. The gun, however, has not been located.

Carter was placed in a car by his companions and taken to the office of Dr. H. M. School. One of them dragged the injured man to the door and told the doctor he had been accidentally shot near Londonderry and that they found him lying in the road. After a brief examination Dr. School ordered the youth taken to the hospital.

Carter's pals did not remain long enough to identify themselves.

Later officers arrested Kelly, 20; George Walters and George Hiles as accomplices of the wounded youth.

Charges of breaking and entering have been filed against all four by the inn's operator.

152 IN BODY

Of 150 shot in the shell 152 entered Carter's body. They were located in the hip, groin, abdomen and chest. Carter's condition is made more serious by the fact he lost much blood.

Carter is regarded by Chillicothe officers as a "bad egg."

His career began when he was 12 years old when he was sent to the Lancaster industrial school for stealing jewelry. He was arrested again after being paroled for forgery in 1926. A short time later he was again paroled and was re-arrested for automobile theft. He then became involved in the Puckett automobile theft.

BANDITS SENT TO STATE PEN

Union-Co Wastes Little Time With Taylor, Hoskins; Now In Prison.

COLUMBUS, May 19.—Dispatched speedily through the court formalities, Harry Hopkins, 23, of Jamestown, and Vernon Taylor, 28, of Springfield, awakened today behind the wall of Ohio Penitentiary where they were brought late yesterday a few hours after they had been sentenced to life imprisonment.

The life sentence were imposed in Marysville yesterday by Judge F. Lacey Allen after the two men, both ex-convicts, had changed an original plea of not guilty to a plea of guilty of the $1,200 robbery of the Farmers and Merchants bank at Milford Center.

The pair was started to the state prison immediately after they had

TROOPERS HUNT FLINT BANDITS

Officers Reluctant To Believe Dillinger in Gang; $33,000 Obtained.

FLINT, Mich., May 19.—A line of state troopers surrounded the Flint district today as squads of local police ransacked the underworld in the belief that the gun mob which robbed the Citizens Commercial and Savings bank of $33,000 yesterday is bottled within the city.

The hunt for the six gangsters and their woman accomplice believed headed by John Dillinger went on through the night without revealing a trace of the desperadoes who swept into the Glenwood branch of the bank, cowed customers and employees with machine guns, and left with the payroll of an auto company.

Seventy-two state policemen in 36 cruisers were dispatched immediately into the territory by Oscar G. Ollander, commissioner of public safety. Their inability to intercept the fugitives strengthens the belief of police that the gang repaired to a pre-arranged hideout in the city.

BUCHANAN TO ACCEPT NEWTON FALLS OFFER; OTHER SCHOOL NEWS

Pickaway-co School Head Given One Year Contract in Trumbull-co

64 SOUGHT POSITION

Pickaway-twp Board Re-Hires 3 Local Teachers

D. L. Buchanan, S. Pickaway-st., who will relinquish his post as superintendent of Pickaway-co schools August 1, announced Saturday that he has accepted the position of superintendent of schools in Newton Falls, Trumbull-co.

The Newton Falls board of education selected Buchanan from a list of 64 applicants at its meeting Thursday night. He begins his new duties in August.

Newton Falls, a steel town, is an exempted village, so Buchanan will be independent of any supervision from city or county officials.

ONE YEAR CONTRACT

A contract for one year is in the mail to the school official today. He is to receive $2,700 an increase over $2,520 he has been receiving here.

The list of 64 applicants was reduced a week ago to nine, then was slashed to three with Mr. Buchanan being the choice.

Newton Falls is a town of about 4,000 persons with 6,000 in the entire district. It has a high school building, a building for auditorium and gymnasium and a grade school building.

Mr. Buchanan has been here for more than three years succeeding Milton S. Cox, who resigned after a short service here. The superintendent, who was not an applicant for re-election here, will be replaced by George D. McDowell, who leaves the Jackson-twp school.

Three Re-hired

Reconsidering its action of ten days ago, the Pickaway-twp board of education re-elected Mrs. L. J. Johnson and Mrs. Walter Denman, this city, as grade school teachers, and also re-elected Edward S. Fries, this city, as high school principal.

At its regular election of teachers for the new year, in which M. C. Warren was again named superintendent, the positions held by the above three were left vacant. Upon reconsideration the board decided to re-employ all members of the 1933-34 staff.

Honor McDowell

George D. McDowell, who became superintendent of Pickaway-co schools in August, was honored Friday at commencement exercises when pupils of the Jackson-twp high school presented him with a basket of beautiful flowers, and the school board and bus drivers gave him an onyx pen set for his desk.

Mr. McDowell leaves the superintendency of the Jackson-twp school after a number of successful years.

Frank E. Wilson, of the state department of education, was the commencement speaker.

Other persons having parts in the program were Rev. Paul C. Scott in charge of invocation and benediction, Ursel Cardiff, valedictorian who was presented a scholarship key by Principal G. J. Lampl, and Edgar Anderson, salutatorian.

NEW HEAT WAVE CAUSES DAMAGE

No Heavy Rainfall Seen As Temperature Remains At 90-Degree Level.

CHICAGO, May 19.—Another wave of intense heat has settled over the sun baked middle west, accentuating the distress of drought-stricken farmers.

Even the possibility of light local showers was held by weather

AT 84 AT NOON

Temperature here at noon today was 84 degrees and climbing. Dr. H. B. Clarke, weather man reported. The highest mark reached Friday was 88 degrees.

Forecasters here to be scant in the central states, and there was no indication at all that heavy rains might be expected.

Temperatures through the central states were holding well above the 90 degree level as a merciless sun beat down. The mercury rose to 93 here when the heat wave pushed through protecting lake breezes.

The long continued drought meanwhile was making the plight of farmers increasingly more acute. Livestock herds were facing starvation in barren pastures. Grain crops have suffered irreparable damage. Water shortages were reported over an ever-widening area.

Farmers have resorted to slaughtering their livestock rather than see them perish for lack of feed and water. One southern Wisconsin dairy farmer shot 20 cows. Another killed 15 in the same manner.

A Chinese National came to the Secretaries of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions in New York City and said, "Make Christ prominent in America and show us what it can mean." What a challenge from a country seeking a new control. The old will no longer hold. There are many forces competing for the mastery. Communism from Russia is most active, putting on an aggressive propaganda to win China. What are we doing to make Christ prominent? Where is our influence? "If that is not the answer," he said, "America will not go on as it has without being overcome by paganism. We must stand by our churches in their spiritual work. Go to church tomorrow. MEMORIAL DAY

Unless Memorial Day shall mean something more than a day of memory and of tribute to the war dead; unless with each succeeding year, millions of men and women and youth declare with flaming conviction that this crime of war, which has cursed the ages, shall not be again—the memorial season will be little more than a vain oblation of words and tears—a veritable mockery of the high hopes of those very heroes we profess to honor. Our efforts towards world peace will be our greatest contribution to the memory of our dead heroes assuring them that they have not died in vain.

World Religious News

Of 20,870 American clergymen who replied to a questionnaire submitted by representatives of twelve religious bodies, 13,997 believe it is time for the churches of the nation to go on record as refusing to sanction or support any future war.

The questionnaires were sent to approximately 100,000 Protestant ministers and Jewish rabbis.

No more significant action in the interests of world peace has been taken by the United States Senate than the inquiry ordered concerning the manufacture and traffic in arms and munitions. A list was read in the Senate showing that 13 great corporations in America had multiplied profits from two to ten times in a four-year period as compared to four-years peace period. To remove all commercial profit from war is a timely subject.

About 5500 students from 963 high schools throughout the 48 states entered the competition.

FALSEHOOD IN WARTIME

A classic example of the misinterpretation and distortion of a simple statement in the interests of producing a loathing for the enemy is told by Arthur Ponsonby as follows: "During the European War, a newspaper in Cologne published the statement that when the fall of Antwerp became known, the church bells were rung (meaning in Germany) in celebration of the victory. A Paris morning paper got hold of it and rendered it that when the fortress of Antwerp was taken the clergy in Belgium were compelled to ring the church bells. The London Times reported it in turn that the Belgian priests who refused to ring the church bells when Antwerp was taken had been driven away from their places. The Corriere della Sera, an embroidered incident to the effect that unfortunate Belgian priests who refused to ring the bells when Antwerp was taken were sentenced to hard labor. Whereupon Le Matin in Paris stated that according to information in the Corriere della Sera from Cologne via London, it was confirmed that the barbaric conquerors of Antwerp punished the unfortunate priests for their heroic refusal to ring the church bells by hanging them as living clappers to the bells with their heads down."

MEMORIAL DAY

Unless Memorial Day shall mean something more than a day of memory and of tribute to the war dead; unless with each succeeding year, millions of men and women and youth declare with flaming conviction that this crime of war, which has cursed the ages, shall not be again—the memorial season will be little more than a vain oblation of words and tears—a veritable mockery of the high hopes of those very heroes we profess to honor. Our efforts towards world peace will be our greatest contribution to the memory of our dead heroes assuring them that they have not died in vain.

Christ is the Prince of Peace and in His church one can find fellowship with His followers. Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

World Religious News

Of 20,870 American clergymen who replied to a questionnaire submitted by representatives of twelve religious bodies, 13,997 believe it is time for the churches of the nation to go on record as refusing to sanction or support any future war.

The questionnaires were sent to approximately 100,000 Protestant ministers and Jewish rabbis.

No more significant action in the interests of world peace has been taken by the United States Senate than the inquiry ordered concerning the manufacture and traffic in arms and munitions. A list was read in the Senate showing that 13 great corporations in America had multiplied profits from two to ten times in a four-year period as compared to four-years peace period. To remove all commercial profit from war is a timely subject.

About 5500 students from 963 high schools throughout the 48 states entered the competition.

FALSEHOOD IN WARTIME

A classic example of the misinterpretation and distortion of a simple statement in the interests of producing a loathing for the enemy is told by Arthur Ponsonby as follows: "During the European War, a newspaper in Cologne published the statement that when the fall of Antwerp became known, the church bells were rung (meaning in Germany) in celebration of the victory. A Paris morning paper got hold of it and rendered it that when the fortress of Antwerp was taken the clergy in Belgium were compelled to ring the church bells. The London Times reported it in turn that the Belgian priests who refused to ring the church bells when Antwerp was taken had been driven away from their places. The Corriere della Sera, an embroidered incident to the effect that unfortunate Belgian priests who refused to ring the bells when Antwerp was taken were sentenced to hard labor. Whereupon Le Matin in Paris stated that according to information in the Corriere della Sera from Cologne via London, it was confirmed that the barbaric conquerors of Antwerp punished the unfortunate priests for their heroic refusal to ring the church bells by hanging them as living clappers to the bells with their heads down."

Lesson for May 20

THE FUTURE OF THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 25:1-13. GOLDEN TEXT—And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever. Rev. 11:15.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Story About a Wedding.

JUNIOR TOPIC—When Jesus Comes.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Always Ready.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christian Preparedness.

The lesson is part of the well-known Olivet discourses giving a prophetic view of the course of time from the crucifixion to the second coming of Christ. Two great facts are before us in this prophetic utterance, the destruction of Jerusalem and the second coming of Christ. The one was near, having taken place within forty years from Christ's crucifixion; the other is still future.

The parable of the ten virgins is one of the two parables designed for the instruction of the saints in view of the coming of Christ. It has a continuous application in the present time (I Thess. 4:10-18; Titus 2:11-13).

I. The Equipment of the Virgins (vv. 1-5).

1. The foolish virgins (v. 3). They took lamps but had no oil in them. Lamps signify profession in them. Lamps signify profession in them. Lamps signify profession in them.

2. The wise virgins (v. 4). They possessed both lamps and oil. They made a profession and backed it with a life of real righteousness. These are the true believers. Both the wise and the foolish virgins slumbered and slept. The common lot falls to both professing and real Christians. They fell under the spell of sleep (v. 5). This shows that as this age lengthens the real and professing church will cease looking for the coming of the Lord. It is unspeakably sad that so many, even of God's saints—wise virgins—should give up the expectancy of the return of the Lord.

II. The Coming of the Bridegroom (vv. 6-10).

1. The midnight cry (v. 6). In the midst of the night when all the virgins were asleep the cry was made, "Behold the Bridegroom cometh, go ye out to meet him." Who knows but that the time of this cry is close at hand?

2. The activity of the virgins (v. 7). They all arose and trimmed their lamps. There will be great activity when the Lord comes, those who only make a profession then realizing that they lack what is essential to entrance to the marriage feast.

3. The foolish request the wise share their oil (vv. 8, 9). The revelation of Christ will make manifest the genuineness of our religion and expose the folly of mere profession. When the Lord comes it will be too late to mend one's ways.

4. The wise enter to the marriage (v. 10). It will matter little what else one has at that time if he has oil in his lamp.

5. The pitiful petition of the foolish (v. 11). They begged the Lord to open the door that they might enter to the marriage feast.

6. The awful judgment (v. 12). The Lord declared, "I know you not." Those who put off personal contact with Christ until that day shall be shut out from his presence.

III. The Solemn Obligation (v. 13).

"Watch, for ye know not the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh."

2. Entering with Christ to the marriage depends not upon having professed to enter the Christian race but continuing therein. It is not enough that we can refer to the lighting of our lamps. If oil and light be wanting when Christ comes there will be no admittance to the heavenly banquet.

3. Borrowed religion will not avail at that day. Association with the most eminent of God's saints will not secure for us acceptance at that day. The essential thing is personal union with the Lord Jesus Christ through faith in his shed blood.

Oils Outhit Columbus 9 But Lose By 14-11 Score

Outfield misplays early in the game and infield errors in the later innings cost the Circleville Oils a 14-11 verdict, Friday evening, in an exhibition game with the State Highway Division No. 6 team of Columbus. The Oils outhit the visitors 17 to 8 but had many runners left on base.

The largest crowd of the current season witnessed the ball game which was featured by interesting but not good baseball. Both teams were guilty of too many misplays to keep the score down. The highlight of the evening was the appearance of Blackie Conrad and Regis Monohan, erstwhile Ohio State athletes. Conrad performed at shortstop then in the pitching box while Monohan confined his activities to the outfield.

Carl Purcell started for the losers but was the victim of poor support in the outfield where several balls dropped for hits that should have been easy outs. Pud Oliver, straw-board moundsman, then climbed the hill and was victimized by poor infield support. The sun had much to do with the outfield's misplays.

SCORING HEAVY

The Oils were able to score three runs in each the first and second innings while the Highwaymen got one in the first, two in the second and four in the third. Both were scoreless until the sixth when the Oils pushed the tying run over only to have the Columbus boys count three to go ahead. Two more were added by the Oil men but the visitors counted three in the eighth and one more in the ninth while the best the losers could do was two markers in their final turn at bat.

Carl Purcell and Eve Merriman led the hitters, the former getting four singles and a walk in six trips up while Merriman hit a home run and three singles and was safe on an error in a like number of tries. Monohan hit two doubles for the winners.

STARTS TRIPLE PLAY

A feature of the fray was a triple play engineered by Raymond Smith, Oil second sacker. Two Columbus men were on base in the fifth by virtue of a walk and Smith's error on a force play attempt. Albanese lined one toward center field which Smith pulled in while going toward second base, he touched the bag and wheeled for a pretty throw to first base clearing the paths.

The Oils had two double plays both Merriman to Smith to Geib. The Oil pitcher gave 11 bases on balls while Heinemann, who started for the visitors, and Conrad gave up seven.

The local team will play a return game in Columbus, Tuesday, May 22.

Cum Robinson, Joe Lynch and Earl Nunn were the umpires.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSESS

"What do you think of Ohio's chances under Coach Francis Schmidt?" was the question put to Regis Monohan and Blackie Conrad, captain and ex-tackle, respectively, of the Buckeyes, Friday evening, at an entertainment at the home of Bryce Briggs after the recreation ball game.

Monohan, upon whose shoulders will fall a lot of weight this fall, replied that what little he had seen of Schmidt's tactics led him to believe that Ohio's squads from now on will carry great potentialities. "We may not do so much this year," Monohan said, "because we have a large number of fine linemen to replace but you can be assured we will have a fighting ball club."

Conrad, who does not get to play under Schmidt, graduating this spring, was confident the Buckeyes will be in the running for the conference title this year.

Hammer Harrington, Ohio State's biggest booster in this city, was on Monohan's trail all evening asking him about this player and that player—Hammer was in his glory.

The recreation ball game Monday evening between the Container Corporation and Circleville Oils should be a hard-fought one with the strawboard men fighting to retain their tie for first place and the Oils seeking to return to the victory column. Several members of the Oil team were somewhat disquieted after Friday evening's contest with the Columbus team when several members of the strawboard aggregation proved District No. 6's most ardent rooters.

Pud Oliver and Carl Purcell will be the opposing pitchers.

ment for renomination and that his brother Philip, will be endorsed for the governorship he formerly held.

For 30 years the house of LaFollette has carried on under the Republican banner, more or less. But it had always been the plan of the late "Fighting Bob" LaFollette that a third party would be born.

The keynote speech of the convention will be delivered by William Mauthe, staunch supporter of the LaFollette faction in the Wisconsin Republican party.

Senator LaFollette and the former governor were both on the scene. Particular interest was shown by the delegates in the speech the senator is to give before the convention. Passed up by Washington leaders of the Democratic party, the senator's political fortunes are more deeply involved in the movement than any other adherent.

Book Review

Did you ever stop to think
EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Okla.

Did you ever notice that the clerks in stores are divided into two classes, the polite, courteous type—the kind you like to trade with—and the arrogant business-like ones that you like to keep away from? Fortunately, the great percentage of them are pleasant and agreeable.

Recently while visiting a city in the East I had occasion to do a bit of shopping. The first store that I visited, two clerks were quite busy talking. I stood around a few minutes waiting for them to finish their conversation. Finally I asked if I could be waited on. The reply, "What do you want?" was spoken in a sharp tone of voice. I said "Nothing" and walked out. That store lost a sale.

Later on, while talking with the Editor of the local newspaper, I told my experience and asked if that merchant advertised in his newspaper. When he told me that he did not, then I understood, for everybody knows that stores that are regular newspaper advertisers always have courteous clerks. Everybody knows that it takes newspaper advertising, courteous clerks and quality goods to make customers come back again and again.

been sentenced. They arrived at the penitentiary under heavy guard of attaches of the Union County sheriff's office.

DELIVERY REPORTED

Shortly before the men were started to the state prison, rumors were circulated that a delivery plot was being engineered for the pair. The trip from Marysville to Columbus, however, was made without incident.

Hopkins and Taylor entered the state prison just a week to the day from the time of their capture in Richmond, Ind., by federal agents there. They were at first suspected of having been implicated in the holdup of a bank at South Vienna in which H. M. Saylor, president of the bank, was slain. Because of lack of evidence, however, in connection with the South Vienna affair, they were turned over to Union County officials for prosecution.

Changing their pleas to guilty, two horse thieves indicted for burglary and larceny in Fairfield-co., were sentenced to Ohio institution for one to 15 years, Friday. They were Alexander Wilson, Greenup, Ky., sent to the Ohio penitentiary, and Dewey Adkins, also of Greenup, sent to Mansfield reformatory.

The men were arrested in Kentucky on information obtained by Deputy Sheriff Bryan Custer.

OHIO WHEAT LISTED

COLUMBUS, May 19.—Production of wheat in Ohio is forecast at 164 million bushels, according to the monthly summary of farm conditions released today by the department of rural economics at Ohio State University here.

The forecast is about 10 per cent less than the five-year average production, but 10 to 12 per cent more than has been produced in either of the last two years.

Reservations Are Made For Washington Tour

Reservations are coming in fast for the wonderful all-expense Memorial Day Tour to Washington under the auspices of The Circleville Herald in connection with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The cost of the tour is most attractive, being only $29.00, and about half of what it would cost if undertaken independently.

So many questions have been received, that unusual interest is indicated and it is deemed best to answer some of the more pertinent ones in these columns. For example:

Question: Will there be ample opportunity to see still other sights in addition to the many listed to: the official trip?

Answer: Yes, there will be ample time. Recognizing that it is absolutely impossible to crowd into a few days all the attractions in Washington, a full day and one evening will be left open. You can thus visit sights of especial interest to yourself, visit friends, enjoy theatrical attractions, rest or otherwise entertain yourself and those in your immediate party.

Questions: Are all meals included?

Answer: Yes. Starting with meals en route on the luxurious diners of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad with their incomparable service and delicious meals you are entitled to all meals in the hotel in Washington during the tour.

Question: Will regular B & O equipment be used?

Answer: Yes, not only "regular" but the finest, which means all-steel coaches usually equipped for 80 passengers, but only 40 passengers will be carried in each coach so there will be more than ample room for each person.

Question: Will there be any "extras"?

Answer: There are no extras, unless you wish to take the special side trip to Annapolis for $1. All guide and admission fees are paid. You join the tour and take it easy while expert lecturers tell you all about everything. Your baggage is handled without charge. You need not spend a penny except for personal purchases.

Question: Who is in charge of the party?

Answer: The tour is being held under our auspices, but the actual details and accommodations are in charge of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. This saves you many dollars and assures you the finest and most comfortable travel, accommodations in hotel, and delicious meals, best sight-seeing trips and conveniences and the opportunity of seeing Washington under the personal escort of passenger representatives of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

One Reason Why President Demands New House Speaker

WASHINGTON—Silver-crested Henry Rainey shouldn't blame Roosevelt for wanting a Speaker who is more than a mere decoration at the next session of Congress.

Here is an example of Rainey's leadership: Among the House conferees on the President's Stock Market bill he appointed Representative George Huddleston, who tried to scuttles the bill in secret committee session, and Representative Joseph L. Hooper. Calling up Speaker Rainey after the announcement was made, a newspaperman asked: "Mr. Speaker didn't you make some mistake about these appointments?"

"No." "Well, did you really mean to appoint Representative Hooper?" "Yes." "Well, he's been dead since February."

The service business codes aren't the only ones General Johnson would like to abandon. A raft of other small industries will be dumped in the code discard if the General has his way. Among those on his private list are fly swatters, pig-rings, mop handles, and artificial flowers.

Washington society is taking up "bicycles built for two." Potomac Park on a Sunday morning is now a flummery of tandem riders. A firm which rents them is doing a thriving business. As a result of the savings incurred under the new airmail bids, Postmaster-General Jim Farley is privately predicting that by the end of June a new high-water mark of 31 routes will be in operation.

In addition to serving 4 states and 16 cities never before on the air-mail map, the new system will cover approximately 28,548 miles—3,300 more than under the old system. The amendment to the Stock Market bill offered by Ohio's Democratic Senator Robert Buckley proposing to bar all marginal trading through brokers, had all the earmarks of face-saving gesture. When the bill was under consideration in the Senate Banking Committee, Buckley lined up with Wall Street Tories in trying to emasculate vital provisions. Congressional enactment of the Equal Nationality bill, enabling American Woman who marry foreigners to retain their citizenship, chalks up another major victory for the Na-

Heads for Congress

Sphinx Walker
Frank C. Walker, able, silent head of the National Emergency Council, was not always so rhetorically retiring. . . . In his college days, at Notre Dame, Walker was the ace member of the school's debating team, toured the country debating other universities. . . . Senator George Norris, veteran Progressive leader, is known as one of the "little band of willful men" who voted against American entrance into the World War. What is not generally known is that following this vote he tried to enlist in the Marines. He passed the physical examination with flying colors, but was rejected because of age.

Sweet Stephens
Senator Hubert D. Stephens, dour Mississippian up for reelection this year, is piling up a sweet record on which to run. . . . In addition to obstructing confirmation of Dr. Willard Thorp as Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Stephens went pro-power industry with a bang. By suddenly changing his vote he killed the Hiram Johnson proposal authorizing the RFC to make long-term loans to publicly-owned electricity distributing systems. Had Stephens not reversed himself this measure would have gone through by one vote.

The House was in turbulent debate over the bill to give an additional $400,000 federal grant to the Chicago World's Fair. Suddenly Texas' bull-voiced Tom Blanton, self-styled "watchdog of the Treasury," bellowed: "Let the people of Chicago stand on their own bottoms." Congressman Fred Britten of Chicago yelled: "That's something that just can't be done."

Irish Aspirations
More people are angling for the job of being American Minister to the Irish Free State than the Ambassador ship to France. . . . Among the foremost candidates are Daisy Harriman, Dick Kilroy, editorial writer for The Los Angeles Daily News, and Colonel Bob Guggenheim, member of the copper fraternity. . . . Informed by an Irish friend that he would have to be baptized a Catholic if he got the Dublin post, Guggenheim replied: "Oh, that's all right. I was baptized once when I married my first wife." He is now living with his fourth. . . . General "Happy" Glossford, great friend of the Bonus Army when he was chief of Washington police, is now under attack in the Imperial Valley of California. . . . As Federal Conciliator of Labor in that area, "Happy" is charged with suppressing free speech and showing open hostility to workers. . . . In order to put the summer's cron of geraniums on top of the White House wings, it is necessary to build a scaffolding and runaway from the

The Value of a Course in LAW

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the third in a series of articles by the faculty of Circleville high school to aid students in their selection of courses for next school term. Students must have registered by May 25.

By VIRGIL M. CRESS

In the period following the World

War many changes were made in the high school curriculum. Economic conditions the world over has had a deciding influence on our schools. More and more school men had it brought forcibly to their attention that the sort of education being offered was inadequate for the majority of children.

Competition in all walks of life now demands that if a man or woman succeed he or she must have that extra something which their competitor does not have. For this reason courses have been added to our curriculum which tend to make the student a keener business man or woman whether he study to be a farmer, professional man or business man.

One course which has been added and which is doing a lot toward making better business men, is business law. In this study there is no attempt to develop lawyers. The main purpose is to give the student an idea of the laws governing all phases of business. It enables him also to avoid those situations which cause court action and involve the spending of so much money as times when he must consult a lawyer. In addition to these helps he becomes familiar with different legal papers with which every man or woman must eventually come in contact.

The study of contracts is taken up in detail. Uses of the various negotiable papers are given full attention. The different business contracts which must be made in buying and selling of goods or services is brought out very clearly. The ease with which a man or woman can become entangled with the law is surprising.

These are all reasons why any young man or woman is neglecting at least a part of the practical side of their education if he fails to take this course in Commercial Law.

GILL COMPOSES SCHOOL MARCH

Mr. John H. Gill has composed a march, "Circleville High School," which has been dedicated to the school. The Circleville High School orchestra played it for the first time at the concert Friday night.

Mr. Gill is also writing words for the march.

Several other compositions of Mr. Gill were played from time to time by both the band and orchestra. These include "Trombone Gliss," "Our Graduates," and rearrangement of "Tannhauser."

Paris Fashion Designers "Hit" In Senior Day Celebrations?

OFFICIALLY dubbed by Mr. O'Gephart as the day when seniors "dress the way they act," senior day was duly and solemnly (?) observed yesterday in C. H. S.

If Paris fashion designers "a la mode" would have viewed the dangerously abbreviated skirts and wild attire of some of the members of the class of '34, their artistic brains would have been rendered useless for further creations of wearing apparel for milady.

It seemed for a while that the female roster of "old Everts" was augmented by one more female until closer examination revealed that Denver Greenlee was hiding beneath a skillful application of cosmetics, a stunning dress, well-oiled roller skates, topped off with gorgeous hat of 1909 vintage. But—horror of horrors—a nasty, vile pipe protruded from (Miss) Greenlee's carmine lips.

ADD PHYSIOLOGY TO CURRICULUM

Another new course, physiology, is to be added to the high school curriculum for the coming school year.

It is to be offered as a semester course for those who are entering as freshmen and will replace the semester course in occupations.

Physiology will also be offered as a year course in the 8th grade. This will replace Junior business training, which is to be taught in the Freshman year of high school in the years '35-'36 instead of the course heretofore known as occupations and sanitation.

Twenty members of the Athletic and Nature group of the Senior Girl Reserves enjoyed a picnic at Dewey park Wednesday.

MRS. TEETER TALKS AT SOCIAL CLUB MEETING

The May meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Social club was held Friday evening in the social room of the church. Mrs. B. T. Hedges called the meeting to order and dispensed with the usual business session.

She then presented Mrs. E. O. Crites, who introduced the participants on the program, the first of which was a delightful group of vocal solos by Mrs. Melvin Yates.

In her ever pleasing manner she sang "Danza" by Chadwick, "The Night Wind" by Farley and "Shortin' Bread" by Wolfe.

Mrs. Crites next introduced Mrs. L. S. Teeter, of the Lazarus Book shop, Columbus, who gave a most intriguing resume of "What's New in Books."

She first told of the five best sellers of 1933 which were as follows:

"Anthony Adverse," "Life Begins at Forty," "Three Little Pigs," "Little Women," and "Alice in Wonderland."

She stated that there were 9200 new books published in 1933 and gave the titles of the best sellers in the various classes, fiction, non-fiction, autobiography, biography, drama and poetry.

Her talk was mingled with bits of humor as she reviewed discussions taking place in a book shop by customers unfamiliar with various books.

She described in detail several books for children and closed her talk with poetical excerpts from St. Vincent Benet's Book of America.

Mrs. Teeter is well-known in this city having previously appeared before the Monday club and the Papyrus club.

Mrs. H. Stanley Lewis was chairman of the program committee and was assisted by Mrs. Crites, Mrs. E. E. Porter and Mrs. S. M. Cryder.

From a handsomely appointed table delectable refreshments were served. Mrs. C. E. Groce poured tea. Mrs. B. T. Hedges was chairman of the hostess committee.

TEETER ATTEND R. N. A. DISTRICT MEETING TODAY

Eighteen members from this city attended the district meeting of the Royal Neighbors of America in Chillicothe, Saturday, held at the Odd Fellows hall.

Mrs. Joseph Wolf, past oracle from the local organization, was to serve as vice oracle during the afternoon session and Miss Dorothy Green was to be one of the Graces.

At the evening session the local fancy drill team was to take part on the program.

Motoring down from here were Mrs. John Neuding, Ray Beery, Mrs. Ellen Root, Mrs. Lydia Riffle, Mrs. Leonard Morgan, Mrs. Adolph Pearce, Mrs. Gordon Quince, Mrs. Roland Scott, Mrs. John Lucas, Mrs. Omer Lemings, Mrs. Herbert Johnston, Mrs. Lawrence Stonerock, Mrs. Stanley Peters, Mrs. Mason Buskirk, Mrs. Phillip Radcliff, Miss Ethel Stonerock, Mrs. Wolf and Miss Green.

Sunshine After Kidnap Cloud

Joy, the kind that comes but once in a lifetime, shines from the face of Mrs. Fernando Robles as she clasps her 6-year-old daughter, June, in their Tucson, Ariz., home, where the child is recovering from effects of 19-day ordeal in the hands of kidnapers, who kept her chained in a box in the desert.

Longevity in Cranberry

CARVER, Mass.—The cranberry industry is responsible for longevity of the citizens of this district according to Town Clerk Henry S. Griffith. Last year only 23 persons died out of a population of 1381. The average age at death was 52 years. So far this year no deaths have been recorded. Griffith says it is the opinion of the residents that the cranberry vines and bogs should get the credit for this.

Did You Know

By Pat J. Kirwin

THAT six local citizens organized a corporation for the construction and equipment of railroads in October, 1893. Incorporated with a capital of $100,000, the organization was known as The Ohio Construction and Improvement Company of Circleville. Milton Morris, Wayne Caldwell, Thomas Blackstone, L. Weldon and George F. Grand-Girard subscribed to the capital and were the original incorporators.

That two of the city's best known professional men, Dr. D. V. Courtwright and Attorney C. A. Weldon were just entering upon their careers 41 years ago this summer. Dr. Courtwright, eldest son of Dr. A. P. Courtwright, was preparing to enter Miami University, Oxford, O., while Mr. Weldon, who had studied law in the office of Charles Delaplaine was getting ready to enroll in the Cincinnati Law School. Both began their studies in the fall of 1893.

That Henry Howe, Ohio's venerable historian, who prepared the excellent work, "Howe's Historical Collections," visited Circleville 41 years ago this summer and spent several weeks gathering data for his valuable book.

That one of the finest cornet bands to appear on Circleville's streets was organized here in August, 1893, under the direction of Prof. Oscar Ameringer, who later went to Europe to study music. The personnel of the band included several Circleville citizens of today. In the band were the following: Ameringer, J. D. Kernan, Ed. Hirt and Clarence Pickel, clarinetists; Court Savage, Orville Trone and W. F. Heffner, cornetists; D. R. Hoffman, euphonium; Ed. Heibel and Ben Bolander, alto horns; Meeker Terwilliger and Jud Savage, tenor horns; A. T. Hammel, tuba; Ben Ludwig, snare drum, and S. H. Meyers, bass drum.

THAT Col. and Mrs. Charles E. Groce have lived in their S. Court-st residence nearly 41 years. They moved there in September, 1893, from a residence on E. Main-st. The spacious Court-st home was bequeathed to Mrs. Groce in the will of Mrs. Mary O. Renick, who died in 1893. Wooster College at Wooster, O., received a $25,000 bequest in the will of Mrs. Renick's husband, to establish the "George Renick Professorship" which is still maintained.

That Circleville's fire department assisted in fighting the flames which destroyed the Chittenden Hotel in Columbus in November, 1893. The Henrietta Theatre and Park hotel were also destroyed in the fire, one of the most destructive in the history of Columbus. Total losses were more than $600,000.

That the first modern convenience to improve the city's streets was a $3,600 steamroller purchased by the city council in September, 1893. The purchase was hailed by local newspapers as "the most extravagant spending in the town's history." A. R. Van Cleaf's Democrat and Watchman, refusing to go along with a Democratic council, sarcastically commented, "having invested in a steam roller, the city might as well buy a steam plow and steam incubator... let's have all the latest appliances."

That after fighting five years in court, the C. and M. V. railroad in October, 1893, was finally forced to pay a judgment of $5,000 for the death of James T. Boggs, Pickaway-twp, who was killed at the S. Court-st railway crossing. The judgment was granted in common pleas court here but the railroad exercised all steps of appeal and finally carried the case to the Ohio Supreme Court. The latter body ordered the judgment be paid.

U. S. FARM PLAN IS ALTERED TO AID SUFFERERS

May Plant Forage Crops on Land Out of Cultivation Under AAA

BUY CATTLE, TOO

Study Being Made for Permanent Help

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The first modification of the government's far-flung crop reduction program had been decided upon today by officials of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as a result of the drought in the west.

Under the program laid before the congressional drought relief committee, farmers would be permitted to plant forage crops on land which was withdrawn from production.

The order will affect a wide area in the west in addition to Minnesota, North and South Dakota, the states hardest hit by the prolonged dry spell.

SIGNED CONTRACTS

Farmers in many western states had signed contracts to reduce both wheat and corn acreage, and to allow the land lie idle.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration rejected congressional proposals for a complete abandonment of the restrictions in the drought area.

Farmers, however, will be able to plant grass, fodder corn, sorghum and other livestock feeds in the drought area. Should the dry spell be broken, enough feed could be produced to carry livestock through the winter.

The drought relief plan also includes purchase of cattle which have become so thin as the result of lack of feed so to be virtually useless to farmers. With government funds, farmers in the drought area will be able to buy good livestock from other sections.

A bill which has already passed the house authorizes $100,000,000 to be used in the general cattle price-lifting program and $50,000,000 for the purchase of diseased and surplus cattle.

PERMANENT HELP

Meantime the congressional drought committee planned a study of means of permanently aiding the great plains sections of the west.

Construction of huge reservoirs, reforestation and other means of conserving water are being studied with a view to proposing legislation next year.

"The water line in the sub-soil has dropped in many sections of the west," said Rep. Sinclair (R) of North Dakota, chairman of the congressional committee.

"Permanent relief is needed. We cannot let this great area become a desert. Our purpose is to evolve a long-time program."

The Public Works administration is aiding in the program by the construction of dams in many sections, but members of the congressional committee hold that a gigantic plan is necessary to prevent future disaster.

MUSIC PROGRAM GAINS PLAUDITS

More than $30 was obtained in a collection Friday evening during the "music festival" presented by the high school's four leading musical organizations including glee clubs, and junior and senior instrumental groups, directed by Miss Tootle and John H. Gill.

The money will be used to help purchase a base for the program, the first ever attempted here. All were highly pleased with the progress shown by the youthful musicians and were free in their applause and comment at the conclusion of the two and one-half hour entertainment.

It is hoped the "music festival," when accomplishments of the various organizations can be shown to the public, will become an annual affair.

CARTER, 22, ON PAROLE AFTER ROBBERY, SHOT

Chillicothe Youth in Serious Condition; 152 Shots Enter Body

THREE AIDES HELD

Two of Youths Stole Puckett's Automobile

Lloyd Carter, 22, one of two Chillicothe youths on parole from Pickaway-co common pleas court after stealing the automobile of Vernon Puckett, is in Chillicothe hospital in a precarious condition after being shot while allegedly trying to break into Jeff's Chicken Inn, west of the Ross-co city, early Friday.

Carter is given a 50-50 chance to recover.

Samuel Kelly, paroled with Carter here, is also in custody charged with helping in the attempted robbery.

Carter was shot in the right hip and groin by Gibson Growder, colored night watchman at the Inn. According to Sheriff Joe Vincent, of Ross-co, Growder asleep on the east side of the inn was awakened by someone breaking in a door on the west side. Picking up a .20 gauge shotgun, he walked to the other side of the building and saw two men, one of them already in the place.

RETURNED FIRE

He pulled up the gun and shot. Carter, the injured man, then shot at Growder. It is charged, a .32 caliber cartridge being found on the floor. The gun, however, has not been located.

Carter was placed in a car by his companions and taken to the office of Dr. E. M. School. One of them dragged the injured man to the door and told the doctor he had been accidentally shot near Londonderry and that they found him lying in the road. After a brief examination Dr. School ordered the youth taken to the hospital.

Carter's pals did not remain long enough to identify themselves. Later officers arrested Kelly, 20; George Walters and George Hiles as accomplices of the wounded youth.

Charges of breaking and entering have been filed against all four by the inn's operator.

152 IN BODY

Of 160 shot in the shell 152 entered Carter's body. They were located in the hip, groin, abdomen and chest. Carter's condition is made more serious by the fact he lost much blood.

Carter is regarded by Chillicothe officers as a "bad egg." His career began when he was 12 years old when he was sent to the Lancaster industrial school for stealing jewelry. He was arrested again after being paroled for forgery in 1926. A short time later he was again paroled and was re-arrested for automobile theft. He then became involved in the Puckett automobile theft.

TROOPERS HUNT FLINT BANDITS

Officers Reluctant To Believe Dillinger in Gang; $33,000 Obtained.

FLINT, Mich., May 19.—A line of state troopers surrounded the Flint district today as squads of local police ransacked the underworld in the belief that the gun mob which robbed the Citizens Commercial and Savings bank of $33,000 yesterday is bottled within the city.

The hunt for the six gangsters and their woman accomplice believed headed by John Dillinger went on through the night without revealing a trace of the desperadoes who swept into the Glenwood branch of the bank, cowed customers and employees with machine guns, and left with the payroll of an auto company.

Seventy-two state policemen in 36 cruisers were dispatched immediately into the territory by Oscar G. Ollander, commissioner of public safety. Their inability to intercept the fugitives strengthens the belief of police that the gang repaired to a pre-arranged hideout in the city.

BUCHANAN TO ACCEPT NEWTON FALLS OFFER OTHER SCHOOL NEWS

Pickaway-co School Head Given One Year Contract in Trumbull-co

61 SOUGHT POSITION

Pickaway-twp Board Re-Hires 3 Local Teachers

D. L. Buchanan, S. Pickaway-st., who will relinquish his post as superintendent of Pickaway-co schools August 1, announced Saturday that he has accepted the position of superintendent of schools in Newton Falls, Trumbull-co.

The Newton Falls board of education selected Buchanan from a list of 64 applicants at its meeting Thursday night. He begins his new duties in August.

Newton Falls, a steel town, is an exempted village, so Buchanan will be independent of any supervision from city or county officials.

ONE YEAR CONTRACT

A contract for one year is in the mail to the school official today. He is to receive $2,700 an increase over $2,520 he has been receiving here.

The list of 64 applicants was reduced a week ago to nine, then was slashed to three with Mr. Buchanan being the choice.

Newton Falls is a town of about 4,000 persons with 6,000 in the entire district. It has a high school building, a building for auditorium and gymnasium and a grade school building.

Mr. Buchanan has been here for more than three years succeeding Milton S. Cox, who resigned after a short service here. The superintendent, who was not an applicant for re-election here, will be replaced by George D. McDowell, who leaves the Jackson-twp school.

Three Re-hired

Reconsidering its action of ten days ago, the Pickaway-twp board of education re-elected Mrs. L. J. Johnson and Mrs. Walter Denman, this city, as grade school teachers, and also rehired Edward S. Fries, this city, as high school principal. At its regular election of teachers for the new year, in which M. C. Warren was again named superintendent, the positions held by the above three were left vacant. Upon reconsideration the board decided to re-employ all members of the 1933-34 staff.

Honor McDowell

George D. McDowell, who becomes superintendent of Pickaway-co schools in August, was honored Friday at commencement exercises when pupils of the Jackson-twp high school presented him with a basket of beautiful flowers, and the school board and bus drivers gave him an onyx pen set for his desk.

Mr. McDowell leaves the superintendency of the Jackson-twp school after a number of successful years.

Frank E. Wilson, of the state department of education, was the commencement speaker. Other persons having parts in the program were Rev. Paul C. Scott in charge of invocation and benediction, Ursel Cardiff, valedictorian who was presented a scholarship key by Principal G. J. Lampl, and Edgar Anderson, salutatorian.

Wayne Elects

Miss Eula Dowden has been named as principal and teacher of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the Wayne-twp school, and Miss Annabelle Barch has been re-hired as first and second grade teacher. Temperatures through the central states were holding well above the 90 degree level as a merciless sun beat down. The mercury rose to 93 here when the heat wave pushed through protecting lake breezes.

The long continued drought meanwhile was making the plight of farmers increasingly more acute. Livestock herds were facing starvation in barren pastures. Grain crops have suffered irreparable damage. Water shortages were reported over an ever-widening area.

Farmers have resorted to slaughtering their livestock rather than see them perish for lack of food and water. One southern Wisconsin dairy farmer shot 29 cows. Another killed 15 in the same manner.

The Church Invites You

MEMORIAL DAY

Unless Memorial Day shall mean something more than a day of memory and of tribute to the war dead; unless with each succeeding year, millions of men and women and youth declare with flaming conviction that this crime of war, which has cursed the ages, shall not be again—the memorial season will be little more than a vain oblation of words and tears—a veritable mockery of the high hopes of those very heroes we profess to honor. Our efforts towards world peace will be our greatest contribution to the memory of our dead heroes assuring them that they have not died in vain.

Christ is the Prince of Peace and in His church one can find fellowship with His followers. Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

Of 20,870 American clergymen who replied to a questionnaire submitted by representatives of twelve religious bodies, 13,997 believe it is time for the churches of the nation to go on record as refusing to sanc-

 The questionnaires were sent to approximately 100,000 Protestant ministers and Jewish rabbis.

No more significant action in the taken by the United States Senate

 13 great corporations in America had multiplied profits from two to ten times in a four year period as compared to four years peace per-painter of religious subjects is a negro, Henry Ossawa Tanner, son of Bishop Tanner of the African

 the French government.

A classic example of the misinterpretation and distortion of a simple statement in the interests of producing a loathing for the enemy is told by Arthur Ponsonby as follows: "During the European War, a newspapers in Cologne published the statement that when the fall of Antwerp became known, the church bells were rung (meaning in Germany) in celebration of the victory. A Paris morning paper got hold of it and rendered it that when the fortress of Antwerp was taken the clergy in Belgium were compelled to ring the church bells.
 The London Times reported it in turn that the Belgian priests who refused to ring the church bells when Antwerp was taken had been driven away from their places. The Corriere della Sera embroidered the incident to the effect that unfortunate Belgian Priests who refused to ring the bells when Antwerp was taken were sentenced to hard labor. Whereupon Le Matin in Paris stated that according to information in the Corriere Della Sera from Cologne via London, it was confirmed that the barbaric conquerors of Antwerp punished the unfortunate priests for their heroic refusal to ring the church bells by hanging them as living clappers to the bells with their

 GOLDEN TEXT—And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever. Rev. 11:15.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Story About

 TOPIC—Christian Preparedness.

The lesson is part of the well-known Olivet discourses giving a

Oils Outhit Columbus 9 But Lose By 14-11 Score

Outfield misplays early in the game and infield errors in the later innings cost the Circleville Oils a 14-11 verdict, Friday evening, in an exhibition game with the State Highway Division No. 6 team of Columbus. The Oils outhit the visitors 17 to 8 but had many runners left on base.

The largest crowd of the current season witnessed the ball game which was featured by interesting but not good baseball. Both teams were guilty of too many misplays to keep the score down.

The highlight of the evening was the appearance of Blackie Conrad and Regis Monahan, erstwhile Ohio State athletes. Conrad performed at shortstop then in the pitching box while Monahan confined his activities to the outfield.

Carl Purcell started for the losers but was the victim of poor support in the outfield where several balls dropped for hits that should have been easy outs. Bud Oliver, straw-bow moundsman, then climbed the hill and was victimized by poor infield support. The sun had much to do with the outfield's misplays.

SCORING HEAVY

The Oils were able to score three runs in each the first and second innings while the Highwaymen got one in the first, two in the second and four in the third. Both were scoreless until the sixth when the Oils pushed the tying run over only to have the Columbus boys count three to go ahead. Two more were added by the Oil men but the visitors counted three in the eighth and one more in the ninth while the best the losers could do was two markers in their final turn at bat.

Carl Purcell and Eve Merriman led the hitters, the former getting four singles and a walk in six trips up while Merriman hit a home run and three singles and was safe on an error in a like number of tries. Monahan hit two doubles for the winners.

STARTS TRIPLE PLAY

A feature of the fray was a triple play engineered by Raymond Smith, Oil second sacker. Two Columbus men were on base in the fifth by virtue of a walk and Smith's error on a force play attempt. Albanese lined one toward center field which Smith pulled in while going toward second base, he touched the bag and wheeled for a pretty throw to first base clearing the paths.

The Oils had two double plays both Merriman to Smith to Geib. The Oil pitcher gave 11 bases on all while Heinemann, who started for the visitors, and Conrad gave up seven.

The local team will play a return helgame in Columbus, Tuesday, May 22.

Cum Robinson, Joe Lynch and Earl Lynn were the umpires.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

"What do you think of Ohio's chances under Coach Francis Schmidt?" was the question put to Regis Monahan and Blackie Conrad, captain and ex-tackle, respectively, of the Buckeyes, Friday evening, at an entertainment at the home of Bryce Briggs after the recreation ball game.

Monahan, upon whose shoulders will fall a lot of weight this fall, replied that what little he had seen of Schmidt's tactics led him to believe that Ohio's squads from now on will carry great potentialities. "We may not do so much this year," Monahan said, "because we have a large number of fine linemen to replace but you can be assured we will have a fighting ball club."

Conrad, who does not get to play under Schmidt, graduating this spring, was confident the Buckeyes will be in the running for the conference title this year.

Hammer Harrington, Ohio State's biggest booster in this city, was on Monahan's trail all evening asking him about this player and that player—Hammer was in his glory.

The recreation ball game Monday evening between the Container Corporation and Circleville Oils should be a hard-fought one with the strawboard men fighting to retain their tie for first place and the Oils seeking to return to the victory column. Several members of the Oil team were somewhat disquieted after Friday evening's contest with the Columbus team when several members of the strawboard aggregation proved District No. 6's most ardent rooters.

Pud Oliver and Carl Purcell will be the opposing pitchers.

ment for renomination and that his brother Philip, will be endorsed for the governorship he formerly held. For 30 years the house of LaFollette has carried on under the Republican banner, more or less. But it had always been the plan of the late "Fighting Bob" LaFollette that a third party would be born.

The keynote speech of the convention will be delivered by William Maunthe, staunch supporter of the LaFollette faction in the Wisconsin Republican party. Senator LaFollette and the former governor were both on the scene. Particular interest was shown by the delegates in the speech the senator is to give before the convention. Passed up by Washington leaders of the Democratic party, the senator's political fortunes are more deeply involved in the movement than any other adherent.

Book Review

Did you ever stop to think
by EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Okla.

Did you ever notice that the clerks in stores are divided into two classes, the polite, courteous type and the kind you like to trade with and the arrogant business-like ones that you like to keep away from? Fortunately, the great percentage of them are pleasant and agreeable.

Recently while visiting a city in the East I had occasion to do a bit of shopping. The first store that I visited, two clerks were quite busy talking. I stood around a few minutes waiting for them to finish their conversation. Finally I asked if I could be waited on. The reply, "What do you want?" was spoken in a sharp tone of voice. I said, "Nothing," and walked out. That store lost a sale.

Later on, while talking with the Editor of the local newspaper, I told my experience and asked if that merchant advertised in his newspaper. When he told me that he did not, then I understood, for everybody knows that stores that are regular newspaper advertisers always have courteous clerks. Everybody knows that it takes newspaper advertising, courteous clerks and quality goods to make customers come back again and again.

been sentenced. They arrived at the penitentiary under heavy guard of attaches of the Union County sheriff's office.

DELIVERY REPORTED

Shortly before the men were started to the state prison, rumors were circulated that a delivery plot was being engineered for the pair. The trip from Marysville to Columbus, however, was made without incident.

Hopkins and Taylor entered the state prison just a week to the day from the time of their capture in Richmond, Ind., by federal agents there. They were at first suspected of having been implicated in the holdup of a bank at South Vienna in which H. M. Saylor, president of the bank, was slain. Because of lack of evidence, however, in connection with the South Vienna affair, they were turned over to Union county officials for prosecution.

Changing their pleas to guilty, two horse thieves indicted for burglary and larceny in Fairfield-co, were sentenced to Ohio institution for one to 15 years, Friday. They were Alexander Wilson, Greenup, Ky., sent to the Ohio penitentiary, and Dewey Adkins, also of Greenup, sent to Mansfield reformatory.

The men were arrested in Kentucky on information obtained by Deputy Sheriff Bryan Custer.

OHIO WHEAT LISTED

COLUMBUS, May 19.—Production of wheat in Ohio is forecast at 104 million bushels, according to the monthly summary of farm conditions released today by the department of rural economics at Ohio State University here.

The forecast is about 10 per cent less than the five-year average production, but 10 to 12 per cent more than has been produced in either of the last two years.

Gadgets From Coal

MOSCOW—In the Soviet Union there is coal too good to burn. It's called Gagat and it's mined in Siberia. Ingenious Reds have discovered that Gagat, with a consistency of baked clay, can be worked with tools. And now cigarette holders, pipe-stems and compacts made of coal are appearing on the Soviet market.

Reservations Are Made For Washington Tour

IN KIDNAPING TRIAL

Reservations are coming in fast for the wonderful all-expense Memorial Day Tour to Washington under the auspices of The Circleville Herald in connection with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The cost of the tour is most attractive, being only $29.00, and about half of what it would cost if undertaken independently.

So many questions have been received, that unusual interest is indicated and it is deemed best to answer some of the more pertinent ones in these columns. For example:

Question: Will there be ample opportunity to see still other sights in addition to the many listed in the official trip?

Answer: Yes, there will be ample time. Recognizing that it is absolutely impossible to crowd into a few days all the attractions in Washington, a full day and one evening will be left open. You can thus visit sights of especial interest to yourself, visit friends, enjoy theatrical attractions, rest or otherwise entertain yourself and those in your immediate party.

Questions: Are all meals included?

Answer: Yes. Starting with meals en route on the luxurious diners of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad with their incomparable service and delicious meals you are entitled to all meals in the hotel in Washington during the tour.

Question: Will regular B & O equipment be used?

Answer: Yes, not only "regular" but the finest, which means all-steel coaches usually equipped for 80 passengers, but only 40 passengers will be carried in each coach so there will be more than ample room for each person.

Question: Will there be any "extras?"

Answer: There are no extras, unless you wish to take the special side trip to Annapolis for $1. All guide and admission fees are paid. You join the tour and take it easy while expert lecturers tell you all about everything. Your baggage is handled without charge. You need not spend a penny except for personal purchases.

Question: Who is in charge of the party?

Answer: The tour is being held under our auspices, but the actual details and accommodations are in charge of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. This saves you many dollars and assures you the finest and most comfortable travel, accommodations in hotel, and delicious meals, best sight-seeing trips and conveniences and the opportunity of seeing Washington under the personal escort of passenger representatives of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

One Reason Why President Demands New House Speaker

WASHINGTON — Silver-haired Henry Rainey shouldn't blame Roosevelt for wanting a Speaker who is more than a mere decoration at the next session of Congress.

Here is an example of Rainey's leadership: Among the House conferees on the President's Stock Market bill he appointed Representative George Huddleston, who tried to scuttle the bill in secret committee session, and Representative Joseph L. Hooper. Calling up Speaker Rainey after the announcement was made, a newspaperman asked: "Mr. Speaker didn't you make some mistake about these appointments?"

"No," "Well, did you really mean to appoint Representative Hooper

The Value of a Course in LAW

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the first in a series of articles by the students of Circleville High School in their selection of courses for next school term. Students must have registered by May 25.

By VIRGIL M. CRESS

In the period following the World

War many changes were made in the high school curriculum. Economic conditions which the world over has had a deciding influence on our schools. More and more school men had it brought forcibly to their attention that the sort of education being offered was inadequate for the majority of children. Competition in all walks of life now demands that if a man or woman succeeds he or she must have that extra something which their competitor does not have. For this reason courses have been devised to make the student a keener business man or woman whether he study to be a farmer, professional man or business man.

One course which has been added and which is doing a lot toward making better business men, is business law. In this study there is no attempt to develop lawyers. The main purpose is to give the student an idea of the laws governing all phases of business. It enables him also to avoid those situations which cause court action and involve the spending of so much money needlessly. He learns that there are times when he must consult a lawyer. In addition to these helps he becomes familiar with different legal papers with which every man or woman must eventually come in contact.

The study of contracts is taken up in detail. Uses of the various negotiable papers are given full attention. The different business contracts which must be made in buying and selling of goods or services are brought out very clearly. The ease with which a man or woman can become entangled with the law if they are not well informed is surprising.

These are all reasons why any young man or woman is neglecting to take this course in Commercial Law.

GILL COMPOSES SCHOOL MARCH

Mr. John H. Gill has composed a march, "Circleville High School," which has been dedicated to the school. The Circleville High School orchestra played it for the first time at the concert Friday night.

Mr. Gill is also writing words for the march.

Several other compositions of Mr. Gill were played from time to time by both the band and orchestra. These include "Trombone Glee," "Our Graduates," and re-arrangement of "Tannhauser."

Paris Fashion Designers "Hit" In Senior Day Celebrations?

OFFICIALLY dubbed by Mr. Gephart as the day when seniors "dress the way they act," senior day was duly and solemnly (?) observed yesterday in C. H. S. If Paris fashion designers "a la mode" would have viewed the dangerously abbreviated skirts and wild attire of some of the members of the class of '34, their artistic brains would have been rendered useless for further creations of wearing apparel for midlady.

It seemed for a while that the female roster of "old Everts" was augmented by one more female until closer examination revealed that Denver Greenlee was hiding beneath a skillful application of cosmetics, a stunning dress, well-oiled roller skates, topped off with gorgeous hat of 1909 vintage. But—horror of horrors—a nasty little pipe protruded from (Miss) Greenlee's carmine lips.

ADD PHYSIOLOGY TO CURRICULUM

Another new course, physiology, is to be added to the high school curriculum for the coming school year.

It is to be offered as a semester course for those who are entering as freshmen and will replace the semester course in occupations.

Physiology will also be offered as a year course in the 8th grade. This will replace Junior business training, which is to be taught in the Freshman year of high school in the years '35-'36 instead of the course heretofore known as occupations and sanitation.

Twenty members of the Athletic and Nature group of the Senior Girl Reserves enjoyed a picnic at Dewey park Wednesday.

"Buttered Side Down," 3-Act Folk Comedy To Be Enacted Thurs. Fri.

WRITTEN BY POVENMIRE

Typical of Real Life in Midwest Towns.

The Senior class play, "Buttered Side Down," to be presented at the high school auditorium, Thursday and Friday evenings, May 24th and 25th, is filled with local color and interest.

Not only the central figures, "Pop" and Elly Smith, but also the other seven major parts in the play are characterizations of people very likely to be found in real life in a small town that is typical of the many found in this immediate neighborhood.

Among the characters are: Fred Upshaw, the bolshieva; "Overshadow" who is the auctioneer of the community; his aloof wife, Rutalia, and their son, Dorsey who with Elsie supplies the romantic atmosphere; Henry Miller, the slow-moving postmaster, and Gus the good natured plodder who is "going to college or bust," who fill the comedy bill; and, Professor Ebright who is contrasted with all these people by his having been chosen, Thursday, June 7, as the date for their marriage. The ceremony will be solemnized at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Katherine May, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor and Mr. David May, brother of the bride, will attend the bride-groom as best man.

Miss Huling, whose marriage to Mr. Weldon, will be an event of June 16, at 6:30 p. m. at the home of her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Newell, in Columbus, has chosen her sister, Miss Frances Huling, as maid of honor and there will be four bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert J. Brunner, Miss Betty Harrington, Miss Floa Powell, of Columbus, and Miss Mary Woodbury of Lake George, N. Y.

Mr. Valtier Courtwright, E. Mount-st, this city, will serve as best man.

Many parties are being planned in the near future for Miss May and Miss Huling.

FOUR ARE HOSTESSES AT BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY

Mrs. T. O. Gilliland, Mrs. Henry Mader, Mrs. Ella Hornbeck, Pinckney-st., and Mrs. T. P. Brown, N. Court-st., were hostesses at a charming birthday surprise party at the former's home, Friday evening, honoring Mrs. J. Wallace Crist and Mrs. Robert Brehmer, N. Court-st.

Artistically arranged baskets of iris were in evidence in the room where the guests were assembled.

Bridge was the diversion of the delightful hours and enjoyed at six tables. Favors for high scores were awarded Mrs. T. F. Jeffries and Mrs. H. D. Jackson. The two honor guests were also presented lovely gifts.

Dainty refreshments were served after the game at prettily appointed small tables centered with bowls of daisies.

Twenty four guests enjoyed the lovely party.

SOPHOMORES WIN IN TRACK MEET

The sophomores, totaling 66 points, snatched an easy victory over their nearest rival in the Class track meet Monday.

Ranking second were the Juniors with 32 1-2 points, the Frosh coming next with 19 1-2 and the Seniors trailing with 3 points.

The Sophs copped 7 out of a possible 14 first places.

She then presented Mrs. E. O. Gates, who introduced the participants on the program, the first of which was a delightful group of vocal solos by Mrs. Melvin Yates.

In her ever pleasing manner she sang "Danza" by Chadwick, "The Night Wind" by Farley and "Shortenin' Bread" by Wolfe.

Mrs. Crites next introduced Mrs. L. S. Teeter, of the Lazarus Book shop, Columbus, who gave a most intriguing resume of "What's New in Books." She first told of the five best sellers of 1933 which were as follows:

She stated that there were 9200 new books published in 1933 and gave the titles of the best sellers in the various classes, fiction, non-fiction, autobiography, biography, drama and poetry.

Her talk was mingled with bits of humor as she reviewed discussions taking place in a book shop by customers unfamiliar with various books.

She described in detail several books for children and closed her talk with poetical excerpts from St. Vincent Benet's "Book of America."

Mrs. Teeter is well-known in this city having previously appeared before the Monday club and the Papyrus club.

Mrs. H. Stanley Lewis was chairman of the program committee and was assisted by Mrs. Crites, Mrs. E. E. Porter and Mrs. S. M. Cryder.

Hurled Down Mountain

HAMILTON, Mont.—Physicians here held out hopes that Archie Perry, who tumbled 60 feet down a mountainside in a 60-lb steam shovel, would live. Perry was operating the huge machine on a new highway project when he slipped from its track and somersaulted into a bed of shale. He was pinned in the cab until fellow-workers could cut their way through the cab with acetylene torches.

Longevity in Cranberry

CARVER, Mass.—The cranberry industry is responsible for longevity of the citizens of this district according to Town Clerk Henry S. Griffith. Last year only 23 persons died out of a population of 1381. The average age at death was 52 years. So far this year no deaths have been recorded. Griffith says it is the opinion of the residents that the cranberry vines and bogs should get the credit for this.

Approximately one million agreements, representing the bulk of the corn and hog production of the United States, have now been signed by producers, according to reports from 42 states to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

While dreaming of what you might have made of the opportunity you are brought back to realities and see it as it really did happen.

Old faces were gone and many new ones took their places. We soon found the old knack of study back with us and plunged into do or die. Having no inter-school sport to claim our attention, the classes immediately formed recreation ball teams and organized a tournament. Although this was a very poor substitute for football we just had to take it for better or for worse. The sophomores emerged victorious and if you know anything about a sophomore you realize how the juniors and seniors suffered.

The basketball season next took the field of importance and Walnut had a very good season although they lost the final tournament game to New Holland. The girls lost their initial tournament encounter to Scioto. The basketball, F. F. A., and Junior-Senior banquets were the outstanding social events of the year.

The track team accomplished much
